

In these weeks, you will be implementing the system based on the deliverables submitted in the previous weeks. You will be required to meet once a week (called a scrum) in compliance of Agile methodology.

Specifically, the scrum should include:

- The list of tasks done for the previous week
- The list of tasks to be done in the next sprint
- Any difficult tasks and bugs that hinders progress

This usually only takes 15 minutes, unless there are important matters to address (such as the last bullet point).

Note: it is not necessary to wait until the weekly scrum to address any blockers. Request help if you are truly stuck.

1. Weekly scrum minutes of the meeting

For each member, list down the tasks done and the tasks to be done this week. At the end of the document, copy the sprint planning table and add a column to the right. Put in the status of the task as NOT STARTED, ON GOING, or COMPLETED.

2. GitHub link of progress

Add the GitHub link of your repository. Add the screenshot that the changes made that week has been made and merged into the main branch.
